Toggle between multiple DB09 connections using this Break-Before-Make data selector.

These manual data switches feature a Break-Before-Make rotary knob selector, and female 9-pin DB09 connectors in a 1:2 or 1:4 configuration.

Break-Before-Make (BBM) prevents short-circuits during the switching process by fully disconnecting each connector before making a new connection. These switches are direction-independent and can function in one-in-many-out or many-in-one-out configurations.
