EmbeddedLock™

Secure Asset Retirement

A Secure Global Asset Retirement Program

Selling surplus or retired assets that carry export restrictions can be risky for even the most astute companies. Penalties for exporting assets in violation of U.S. export laws and regulations can lead to fines, penalties and negative publicity. Resembling the domino effect, a single action can trigger multiple violations. Therefore, it is important for companies to have a single, reliable partner to purchase their surplus or retired assets.

Artisan Technology Group's EmbeddedLock purchases export restricted assets benefiting businesses with a single trusted buyer and the security that retired assets are handled in full compliance with all U.S. government regulations.

EmbeddedLock Minimizes Your Liability

With the increasing number of government sponsored export compliance initiatives and with enforcement actions by regulatory agencies on the rise, companies need to consider how they can best sell their surplus and retired assets. Even if the initial sale is not in violation of export compliance regulations, companies continue to be exposed to liability in subsequent sales outside of their control and can still be subject to fines and penalties, especially if assets are sold to restricted persons or nationals of a restricted country.

EmbeddedLock has the financial strength to purchase large quantities of surplus inventory along with the backing of a fully compliant Export Management and Compliance Program and over 10 years experience handling EAR and ITAR controlled commodities.

EmbeddedLock Offers:

- Secure Purchase of ATE/COTS
- Trusted Source to Purchase All Test Equipment
- Safeguard Against Export Restricted Assets Landing in the Wrong Hands
- Registered with U.S. Department of State, Directorate of Defense Trade Controls
- Industry Leading Export Management and Compliance Program
- Over 10 Years Experience Handling EAR and ITAR Controlled Commodities

Selling your surplus or retired assets to EmbeddedLock is the best way to ensure your assets will be handled in full compliance with U.S. Government regulations

Control Your Chain of Custody

Multiple Buyers

Single Trusted Buyer

ATE systems have restricted/controlled assets within them. Selling these systems to EmbeddedLock ensures that current regulations will be met.

Thorough knowledge of current and changing regulations along with the ability to classify and maintain proper control of all assets, current and vintage, makes EmbeddedLock your solution for secure asset retirement.
