UCS modules are compact format, device-to-network interfaces for OEM products. Each UCS module features a standard interface to to the host product, which ensures complete interchangeability; aside from the original UCS interface implementation in the host product, no additional programming is required. Using the Download Adapter Tool (The Download Adapter Kit is comprised of the Download Adapter Tool, a serial cable and a 32-bit Windows configuration application.), the modules are fully field upgradeable. The user may apply a custom network personality on compatible networks. Modules may be ordered with mezzanine, edge or ribbon cable connectors.

The Profibus UCS module features a DIN 19245 part 1 compatible physical layer and is suitable for FDL, DP and FMS protocols when available. Protocols can be downloaded to the modules as firmware.
