Packaging Contents

- 1 x COMP2VGA adapter
- 1 x 15-pin HD extension cable
- 1 x stereo audio cable
- 1 x 9V DC power supply

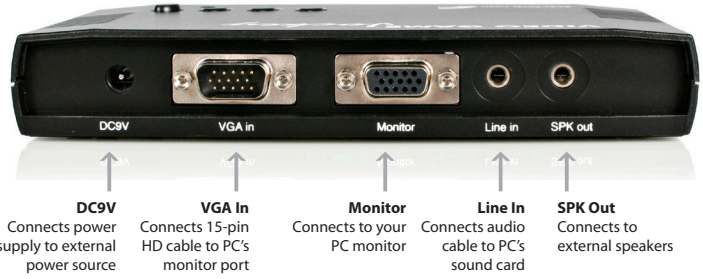

System Requirements

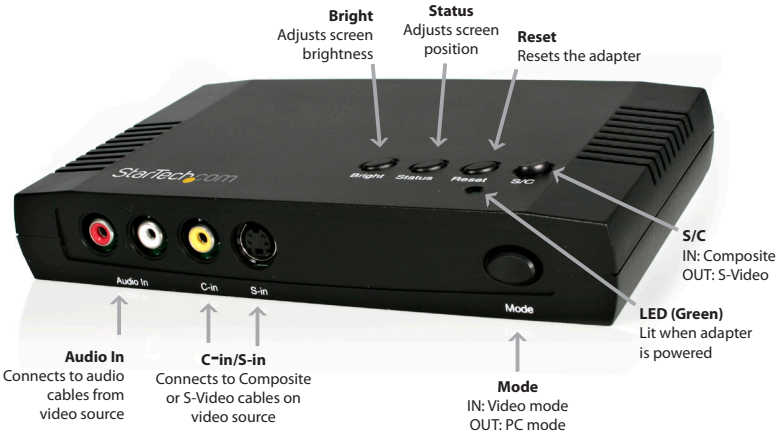

- PC monitor with 15-pin high-density (HD) port with a horizontal signal (HS) of 31.5KHz or higher and a vertical signal (VS) of 60KHz or higher for NTSC systems or 50KHz or higher for PAL systems
- Video and audio source (i.e., DVD, VCR, game machine, camcorder)
- Pair of speakers

Installation

This section will guide you through the installation of your device. Please read through this section carefully and complete each step in the order listed. Also consult the documentation that came with your PC and video source (i.e., game console, DVD player, etc.) for specific details.

1. Make sure that your adapter, PC, monitor, and video device are turned off.
2. Connect the 15-pin HD cable from your computer's monitor port to the VGA In port on the back of the adapter.
3. Plug your monitor into the Monitor port on the back of the adapter.
4. Connect the provided audio cable from your computer's sound card to the Line In port on the back of the adapter.
5. Connect your speakers to the SPK Out port on the back of the adapter.

FCC Compliance Statement

This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
- Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help.
